Automotive Aftermarket Legend Mark Fukuda to Keynote MasterTech™ Expo

Accomplished innovator, builder and fabricator will also provide class instruction

TEMPE, ARIZ., August 12, 2021 (MEDIAWIRE) – Mobile Solutions® announced that Mark Fukuda will present the keynote address for its first annual MasterTech™ Expo training and learning event, to be held March 6-9, 2022 at the Mesa Convention Center in Mesa, Ariz. In addition, Fukuda will teach a course alongside Tom Miller, decorated fabricator and owner of Musicar in Portland, Ore. The duo will present innovative fabrication techniques as part of the event's "School of Fab" education curriculum.

Entitled "Keys to Success," the keynote address will take place March 9 prior to the event's awards presentation. Fukuda will provide an engaging mix of life and career experience with an insightful roadmap to navigating the industry's current challenges.

Fukuda has a storied and colorful history in the automotive aftermarket. As a car audio competitor, he holds the record for six consecutive world championships as well as 12 SPL (sound pressure level) records and 11 national championships from various competition organizations. His award-winning 1989 Chevy Astro van has become an icon in competitive circles. Achieving Master-level certification from MECP (Mobile Electronics Certified Professionals) in 1995, Fukuda has won numerous awards including Installer of the Year for Car Stereo Review, USACi (United States Autosound Competition International) and other publications.

Fukuda's continued creative mastery and willingness to share knowledge led to a substantial career path, founding a retail store, installation training facility and home theater building service. He later spent five years with Rockford Corporation before venturing into sales representation and distribution, leading to his current role as president and CEO of Wave Electronics.

Fukuda will be joined at MasterTech Expo by the same vehicle that put him on so many winning stages and magazine covers. The iconic Rockford Fosgate®-themed Astro van, which Fukuda is currently modernizing with custom-built modifications, will be on display in front of Rockford Fosgate's booth.

"Words don't describe the sheer impact Mark has had on this industry," said Bryan Schmitt, CEO and founder of MasterTech Expo. "Despite his success, he has always been willing to take guys aside and offer his advice and experience. The personal effect on many professionals in our industry, myself included, has provided us direction, drive and purpose. We are so deeply honored to have him at our inaugural event."
